

Nordic cooperataion in climate change research

Marianne Lilliesköld
Senior Scientific Advisor
Swedish Environmental Protection Agency
Research Secretariat

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

Nordic call

- ▶ Consequences of climate change for policy making in the Nordic countries
 - what are the synergies and trade-offs between adaptation and mitigation to climate change in policy making
 - how do the Nordic countries compare and differ with respect to adaptation needs and implementation ability
- ▶ Budget 400 000 euros

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

Strategy

- ▶ Background paper
 - Description of the Nordic countries research
 - Ongoing Nordic co-operation
 - Identification of regional possible topics for co-operation
 - Possibilities for joint CIRCLE-activities
 - Tentative way forward and timetable
 - A signed MoU as guidance for the call procedure

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

Partners and applications

- ▶ The Academy of Finland
- ▶ Research Council of Norway
- ▶ Swedish Environmental Protection Agency

- ▶ 8 applications
- ▶ 3 funded

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

Project 1

Do research, policy and practice meet CAREPol

- ▶ Finland
 - Finnish Meteorological Institute
 - Helsinki University, Depart. of Economics and Management
- ▶ Sweden
 - Rossby Center, Swedish Met. and Hydrol. Institute
 - Center for Climate Science and Policy Research
- ▶ Norway
 - Norwegian Meteorological Institute
 - CICERO - Center for International Climate and Environmental Research

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

CAREPol's approach

- ▶ Inquiries on how scenarios are used
- ▶ Interviews on adaptation and needs for scenarios
- ▶ Evaluation of official reports on strategies for adaptation

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

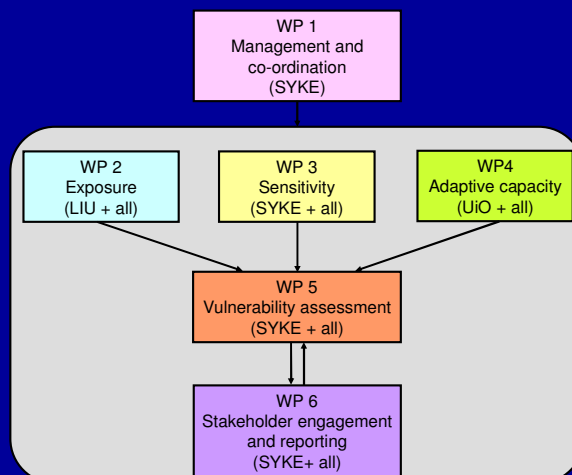

Climat Change: A Regional Assessment of Vulnerability and Adaptive capacity for the Nordic countries, CARAVAN:

- Finnish Environment Institute (SYKE), Helsinki
- The Department of Sociology and Human Geography, University of Oslo
- The Centre for Climate Science and Policy, Linköping University

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

Community response and multilevel governance

- ▶ Sweden
 - Stockholm Environment Institute
 - Umeå University (geography)
- ▶ Norway
 - Western Norway Research Institute
 - CICERO
- ▶ Finland
 - Arctic Centre and Univ. of Lapland, Rovaniemi
 - Helsinki University of Technology

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

- ▶ Nordic network on community response to climate change
- ▶ workshops
 - rural settings
 - urban issues
 - multilevel governance in the Arctic, links between international and local climate responses

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>

- ▶ Midterm workshop
- ▶ Final reporting
 - Workshop
 - Meetings with target groups
 - Publication

<date>

<author>

<slide no. of xy slides>